REPORT.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACIOUS MAJESTY,

1. We, the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, appointed under an Act passed in the 7th and 8th years of your Majesty's reign, entitled "An Act for the more effectual Application of Charitable Donations and Bequests in Ireland," humbly beg leave to submit to your Majesty this our Twenty-seventh Annual Report.

2. In the Reports presented by us since the passing of the Act of the 30th & 31st years of your Majesty's reign, c. 54, we adverted to the important powers conferred on us by that Act, and to the consequent large increase in the business of our Department caused by the facilities afforded to Trustees of Charities and other persons interested in the due administration of charitable trusts, of resorting to our jurisdiction. We likewise pointed out certain defects in that Act, which in our opinion required amendment.

3. In our last Report we mentioned that we had carefully considered suggestions for the amendment of the law, prepared by our Secretaries in accordance with our directions, and had forwarded these to your Majesty's Government.

4. A Bill, calculated to give effect to those suggested amendments, was introduced in the House of Lords on behalf of your Majesty's Government by the Right Honourable the Lord Chancellor of Ireland, and it became law on the 31st August, 1871.

5. We regard the provisions of that statute, known as "The Charitable Donations and Bequests Act (Ireland), 1871," as important not only in having further facilitated the despatch of business in our Department, but as having introduced new safeguards to charities and charity property. The effect of the passing of that Act, like the previous one, has been to increase the business of our office.

6. One of the most useful provisions in the Act of the last Session of Parliament is the reduction of the quorum of this Board from five to three. The effect of that reduction in increasing the number of effective meetings, is apparent from the fact that out of 33 meetings summoned since the date of the passing of the Act up to the date of this Report, only 5 proved abortive for want of the necessary quorum; whereas in the same period embraced in our last Report, out of 33 meetings summoned 12 had been abortive; and in the previous year, out of a like number of meetings summoned there had been 16 abortive ones.

7. This change in the law also enabled us to dispose of a much larger amount of business, in addition to providing for the punctual payments and distribution of funds under our control, which is of much moment to the Charities interested therein; the minutes of our proceedings show that since the date of our last Report we have made 247 orders in various charity matters, as compared with 144 in the previous year, and 171 in the year before.

8. The indemnity secured to Trustees of Charities and others engaged in the administration of Charitable Trusts by our advice—which we are now enabled to give under our Corporate Seal—the facility with which that advice can be obtained, and above all the consideration—so important in the view of persons administering Charity Funds—that it can be procured at little or no cost, has had the effect of increasing the number of those who have resorted to our jurisdiction.

9. The extended power conferred on us by the Act of last Session, of framing Schemes for the administration of Charity Funds in cases where the funds are small, and in which the intentions of the Testator could not be literally carried out, has been exercised by us in four cases with satisfactory results. The publicity required by the Act to be given to our Schemes, previously to being confirmed by us, has been in each instance rigidly adhered to. By advertisements in local newspapers, and by printed notices posted for at least one month on Church and Chapel doors, and other public places in the locality where the Charity is to be applied, setting forth the nature and objects of the proposed Scheme, full knowledge has been brought home to all parties interested in the Charity, and full opportunity has been afforded to them of offering suggestions, or stating objections. With the exception of the trifling cost of printing and advertising, each Scheme is prepared and finally adjusted without expense to the Charity Fund. Among the Schemes thus framed by us was one for the relief of poor Germans of the German Trinity Church Congregation, under the Will of Mr. George Felster. The amount being small, and it having been found impracticable to carry out the original intention of the Testator, the Fund accumulated for many years, owing to the great cost of proceeding in the Court of Chancery. Under the powers conferred upon us, we have been enabled at little or no expense to bring the Charity into satisfactory operation.

10. The publication of Charitable Bequests in newspapers circulating in the localities in which they are intended to be applied, having proved an effectual safeguard against loss or misapplication, we continue to require from Executors a strict compliance with the provisions of the "Charitable Donations and Bequests Act (Ireland), 1867," as well as those of the Act of last Session, which enacts that copies of the papers shall be forwarded to our office. The Act of 1867, however, rendered publication obligatory in every case, but it was found that in cases in which the amount left for charitable purposes was very small, the expense of advertising (which in each case has to be paid out of the Bequest) pressed sensibly on the Charities. To remedy this the "Charitable Donations and Bequests Act (Ireland), 1871," conferred on us a power of exempting from publication such Bequests as in our discretion we considered ought to be exempted.

11. The carrying out of the provisions in respect to exemption has proved highly satisfactory in two ways; first, in enabling Executors to pay small Bequests without any deduction, and secondly, in securing their prompt payment, such being made the condition of exemption. The number of cases exempted by us from publication since the passing of the Act of last Session has been 54. In 3 of these, satisfactory proof was given that the estate of the Testator was utterly insolvent. In all others, receipts for payment were produced, amounting in the aggregate to £647.

12. Under the power conferred on us of compromising Charity claims, we have been enabled by a correspondence with the Commissioners of Church Temporalities to secure for an endowment, left by the will of the late Primrose Boulter, for the benefit of the widows of curates of ten years standing in the Diocese of Armagh, a permanent increase of annual income from £46 to £81. The amount transferred to us for principal and arrears of interest in this case is £3,500, which is now invested in £3,792 10s. 7d. Stock. We have also succeeded in recovering a sum of £250 for arrears of an annuity due to a similar benevolent endowment in the Diocese of Ossory, left by the will of Mrs. Mary Gore.

13. An endowment created by the will of Mr. Roger Palmer, for the purpose of giving annually marriage portions to some poor girls in the parish of Rush, in the county of Dublin, is now carried out with great regularity and advantage to the recipients. For some years it was much abused, but we laid down certain rules and regulations which have rendered its administration highly satisfactory.

14. After considerable litigation we have at length succeeded in bringing into operation an old endowment created by the will of Mr. Peter Bertrand, so long ago as the year 1802. This gentleman left his property, consisting of lands and houses in the city and suburbs of Dublin, held under the See of Dublin, and at the time producing about £200 a year, for the purpose of establishing a boarding school for poor Protestant female orphan children. The property having been withheld from its purposes, our predecessors at this Board took proceedings for its recovery, and succeeded in realising it, but from the effects of litigation and a large accumulation of renewal fines, it became so much embarrassed that it was found impossible to carry out the intentions of the Testator. A few years ago we were obliged to raise money on mortgage for the purpose of paying off these fines, but we have the satisfaction to state that we have not only paid off all charges and incumbrances, but by advantageous lettings of the Charity property on building leases and otherwise, have succeeded in securing for the Charity a well-paid annual income of £750. Under the sanction of the Court of Chancery a scheme for the administration of the school has been framed. Trustees have been appointed, a commodious house in the city of Dublin has been taken, and preliminary steps have been adopted for the reception of fifteen orphan girls.

13. Besides the last-mentioned case, schemes, under the sanction of the Court of Chancery in proceedings instituted by us, have also been framed in the following cases:

In the matter of an endowment by Sir Richard Levinge for a Charity School in the county of Westmeath.

In Archbishop King's Charity for the recovery and administration of an endowment established for the benefit of a person to perform divine service in the church of Little George's, in the city of Dublin.

In a Charity established by the will of Dr. Jeremy Hall for an Alms House and School in the city of Limerick.

In an endowment under the will of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith for an Alms House and School in the city of Cork. In this last case it was found impossible to carry out the intentions of the Testatrix in their original form, and we applied to the Court of Chancery for the purpose of having the fund partly allocated to an existing institution of a kindred nature, which has been done. A sum of £4,407 5s. 5d. new 3 per cent stock, which had been accumulating for many years in the Court of Chancery, was transferred to us by an order of that Court, and is now standing in our names for the purposes of this Charity.

16. In two important Charities in the town of Belfast we have enabled the Trustees to grant building leases which have largely increased the Charity property.

17. Finding that certain leases of a property in the suburbs of the town of Portarlington, held by us for charitable purposes under the will of Miss Cordelia Carey, were fettered by covenants prohibiting us from setting or assigning to persons professing the Roman Catholic religion, we placed ourselves in communication with the Right Honorable the Earl of Portarlington, and requested him, as head landlord, to execute a deed releasing those covenants. His lordship promptly complied with our request, and we have since been enabled to grant leases in perpetuity to solvent Roman Catholic tenants with much advantage to the Charity.

18. Under the useful provision contained in the Act of last Session, enabling us to proceed by summary petition for the recovery of small sums, we have compelled the payment of the arrears of a small annuity payable to a Widows' Alms House in the city of Dublin. We have also, by threats of proceedings, compelled the payment of a number of other Bequests. We are always reluctant to resort to expensive litigation, and before doing so try every other means within our power. Hence in by far the largest number of cases we find that by correspondence or personal explanations with our Secretaries, Executors or other persons liable for the payment of Charitable Bequests, either discharge the amounts without delay, or make satisfactory arrangements for payment within a reasonable time, and without any expense being incurred.

19. With a view of discouraging private persons from unnecessarily resorting to expensive proceedings in Charity matters, there is a provision in the "Charitable Donations and Bequests (Ireland) Act, 1867," which requires notice in writing to be transmitted to us before any suit or other proceeding in Charity matters shall be commenced. In one case where no such notice had been forwarded, and in which we considered that expense had been unnecessarily incurred, we felt it our duty to bring the matter under the notice of the Court of Chancery, and the result was that the petition which had been filed was set aside with costs.

20. The 5th section of the "Charitable Donations and Bequests Act (Ireland), 1867," enables us at our discretion to certify to your Majesty's Attorney-General cases which from their peculiar character we consider ought more properly to be proceeded with by him ex officio. In two cases we have forwarded certificates to the Attorney-General.

21. According as the provisions enabling Trustees of Charity funds to place them under our custody become more generally known, more applications are made to secure them in this way. The sums transferred to us in this way since the passing of the Act of 1867, will be found in the 7th Schedule to this Report. Another provision in the Act of last Session, has enabled us to apply to any Court in which any fund, stock, or moneys intended for charitable purposes, or impressed with a charitable trust, is lying unapplied, for an order that the fund should be transferred to us. We have availed ourselves of this provision in three cases. In each of these the fund was transferred to us, and we are taking steps to have it administered in accordance with the wishes of the donors.

22. We annex to this our Report, in Schedule No. 2, a copy of the Abstract of our Accounts in the several charities under our administration, from 1st January, 1871, to 31st December last; the details of which with their vouchers having been lodged as usual with the Master in Chancery for examination and audit, have been examined and passed, and a declared copy lodged in the Privy Council Office, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Parliament.

23. The total amount of the trust funds which were under our care and control in cash, and vested in Government and other securities on the 31st December last, is set forth in the 3rd, 4th, and 5th Schedules, the particulars of which, together with the objects of each trust fund, will be found in Schedule No. 6.

24. The annual amount of rents and annuities under our guardianship at the same period specifying the particular amount of each, with the name of the Testator or Donor by whom created, the source from whence each is derived, and the object of each trust, is given in Schedule No. 8; and in Schedule No. 9 will be found a Return of Charity Funds standing to the credit of causes or matters in the Court of Chancery, in which the title of the Charity has been established by decree or order.

All which we submit as our Report to your Most Excellent Majesty, and in testimony thereof have caused our corporate seal to be hereto affixed, this 13th day of July, 1872.
